The incidence of thyroid disease has seen an exponential rise in the past few decades across the globe and even in our country. Management of thyroid disorders requires an integrated team effort between head and neck surgeons, general surgeons, otolaryngologists, endocrinologists and nuclear medicine physicians.

This made apparent the need to gather all the luminaries in the field of management of thyroid cancers across the specialties and from across the length and breadth of our country to share their experience and wisdom.

The 6th National ISTS Meeting at Kolkata from 7th -9th June 2024, aims to bring together clinicians from various disciplines to discuss and deliberate on the various contentious issues associated with Thyroid disorders, especially thyroid cancers. We anticipate the conference will be attended by at least 250 - 300 national and international delegates.

We invite our industry partners for a fruitful and supportive collaboration in order to make the ISTS 2024 Conference a huge success!!!
